International

The University offers the variety of courses taught in English in Economics and Management for those who wish to study at PRUE for a semester or a year. PRUE has cooperative agreements on students' exchange programs with more than 100 partner universities around the globe, welcoming more than 200 exchange students each semester.

Erasmus+ students.

International students from the universities which have an Erasmus+ interinstitutional agreement with PRUE may spend one or two semesters at PRUE as part of their studies. Students must apply through a home university. Erasmus+ students at PRUE may enroll one of offered programs on any level. Erasmus+ students are provided with all necessary support, including visa support and accommodation in the student residence. PRUE visa support department issues official letters of invitations to Erasmus+ students if required, and assists with the following registration within the territory of Russia.

Opportunities to learn language among native speakers.

The Department of Russian Language and Speech Culture was established to ensure that foreign students who come to study at our university can master Russian at a high level, which would further enable them to receive a quality education on a par with native speakers.

Buddy system at PRUE.

For the successful adaptation of foreign students to the university life at PRUE and Russian reality as a whole Plekhanov University created a special group of volunteers called buddy system. Buddy system members help newcomer international students to adapt to the weekdays of PRUE. Their support lies in assisting with the passage of formal registration procedures, the selection of subjects for study. Actually, a Russian buddy will be the first person who a foreigner will get to know in Russia upon the arrival as all the exchange students are met at the airports and railway stations and helped to get to the university dorm.

At the same time, Russian buddies in Moscow conduct for their newly-made foreign friends informal tours around the city, exploring the sights and places that might be interesting for foreigners during their stay in Moscow. In addition, every week Russian buddy team conduct at least 2 different events which you can find additional info about on their Facebook account:
